

Key requirements when writing an EHC Plan

The new SEN Code in Paragraph 9.61 sets out the key requirements and principles which apply to local authorities and those contributing to the preparation of an EHC plan. These include:

- EHC plans should be clear, concise, understandable and accessible and written so they can be understood by professionals in any local authority
- EHC plans should describe positively what the child or young person can do and has achieved
- EHC plans must specify the outcomes sought for the child or young person. Outcomes in EHC plans should be SMART (specific, measurable, achievable, realistic and time-bound).
- EHC plans should be forward looking – for example, anticipating, planning and commissioning for important transition points in a child or young person's life, including planning and preparing for their transition to adult life.
- EHC should have a reviewed date (which should link to other regular reviews, including the child in need plan or child protection plan reviews if appropriate)

Definition of terms required for development of EHC plan

- Aspiration: "A hope or ambition of achieving something" e.g. to be independent, be healthy, gain employment, go to college
- Outcome: "The benefit or difference made to an individual as a result of an intervention. It should be personal and not expressed from a service perspective" e.g. to be able to travel independently, on foot and by public transport, in and around Bromley, by the time I'm 19
- Need: "A thing that is wanted or required. The state of requiring help"....(It's not just the diagnosis, but the needs that arise from this) e.g. Self Help- needs help with their personal hygiene i.e. toileting, washing; Learning difficulties- needs constant repetition in order to support learning
- Provision: "The action of providing or supplying something... a resource" e.g. getting support from a service, a resource like Physio, an Ipad
- Personal versus Service Outcome; "Focused on the individual and not based around professional jargon" e.g. I want to be able to talk to my friends.... Not: to increase expressive language...

The contents of an EHC Plan

As a statutory minimum, EHC plans must include the following sections, which must be separately labeled from each other using the letters specified in the table below.

Label	Section	Information to include
A	The views, interests and aspirations of the child and his or her parents or the young person.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Details about the child or young person's aspirations and goals for the future (but not details of outcomes to be achieved). When agreeing the aspirations; consideration should be given to the child or young person's aspirations for paid employment, independent living and community participation.</li> <li>• Details about play, health, schooling, independence, friendships, further education and future plans including employment (where practical).</li> <li>• A summary of how to communicate with the child or young person and engage them in decision-making.</li> <li>• The child or young person's history</li> <li>• If written in the first person, the plan should make clear whether the child or young person is being quoted directly, or if the views of parents or professionals are being represented.</li> </ul>
B	The child or young person's special educational needs.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• All of the child or young person's identified special Educational needs must be specified.</li> <li>• SEN may include needs for health and social care provision that are treated as special educational provision because they educate or train the child or young person.</li> </ul>
C	The child or young person's health needs which are related to their SEN.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The EHC plan must specify any health needs identified through the EHC needs assessment which relate to the child or young person's SEN. Some health care needs, such as routine dental health needs, are unlikely to be related to SEN.</li> <li>• The Clinical Commissioning Group (CCG) may also choose to specify other health care needs which are not related to the child or young person's SEN (for example, a long-term condition which might need management in a special educational setting).</li> </ul>

D	The child or young person's social care needs which are related to their SEN or to a disability.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The EHC plan must specify any social care needs identified through the EHC needs assessment which relate to the child or young person's SEN or which require provision for a child or young person under 18 under section 2 of the Chronically Sick and Disabled Persons Act 1970.</li> <li>• The local authority may also choose to specify other social care needs which are not linked to the child or young person's SEN or to a disability. This could include reference to any child in need or child protection plan which a child may have relating to other family issues such as neglect. Such an approach could help the child and their parents manage the different plans and bring greater co-ordination of services. Inclusion of information in relation to child protection plans must only be with the consent of the child and their parents.</li> </ul>
E	The outcomes sought for the child or the young person.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• A range of outcomes over varying timescales, covering education, health and care as appropriate but recognizing that it is the education and training outcomes only that will determine when a plan is ceased for young people aged over 18. Therefore, for young people aged over 17, the EHC plan should identify clearly which outcomes are education and training outcomes.</li> <li>• A clear distinction between outcomes and provision. The provision should help the child or young person achieve an outcome, it is not an outcome in itself.</li> <li>• Steps towards meeting the outcomes.</li> <li>• The arrangements for monitoring progress, including review and transition review arrangements and the arrangements for setting and monitoring shorter term targets by the early years provider, school, college or other education or training provider.</li> <li>• Forward plans for key changes in a child or young person's life, such as changing schools, moving from children's to adult care and/or from pediatric services to adult health, or moving on from further education to adulthood.</li> <li>• For children and young people preparing for the transition to adulthood, the outcomes that will prepare them well for adulthood and are clearly linked to the achievement of the aspirations in section A.</li> </ul>

		be met and the outcomes to be achieved through provision secured through a personal (health) budget. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Clarity as to how advice and information gathered has informed the provision specified.</li> <li>• Health care provision reasonably required may include specialist support and therapies, such as medical treatments and delivery of medications, occupational therapy and physiotherapy, a range of nursing support, specialist equipment, wheelchairs and continence supplies. It could include highly specialist services needed by only a small number of children which are commissioned centrally by NHS England (for example therapeutic provision for young offenders in the secure estate).</li> <li>• The local authority and CCG may also choose to specify other health care provision reasonably required by the child or young person, which is not linked to their learning difficulties or disabilities, but which should sensibly be coordinated with other services in the plan.</li> </ul>
H1	Any social care provision which must be made for a child or young person under 18 resulting from section 2 of the Chronically Sick and Disabled Persons Act 1970 (CSDPA)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Provision should be detailed and specific and should normally be quantified, for example, in terms of the type of support and who will provide it (including where this is to be secured through a social care direct payment).</li> <li>• It should be clear how the provision will support achievement of the outcomes, including any provision secured through a Personal Budget. There should be clarity as to how advice and information gathered has informed the provision specified.</li> <li>• Section H1 of the EHC plan must specify all services assessed as being necessary to meet the needs of a disabled child or young person under 18, under section 2 of the CSDPA.</li> </ul> These services include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>✓ practical assistance in the home</li> <li>✓ provision or assistance in obtaining recreational and educational facilities at home and outside the home</li> <li>✓ assistance in traveling to facilities</li> <li>✓ adaptations to the home</li> <li>✓ facilitating the taking of holidays</li> <li>✓ provision of meals at home or elsewhere</li> <li>✓ provision or assistance in obtaining a telephone and any special equipment necessary</li> <li>✓ non-residential short breaks (included in Section H1 on</li> </ul>

H2	Any other social care provision reasonably required by the learning difficulties or disabilities which result in the child or young person having SEN.	Social care provision reasonably required may include provision identified through early help and children in need assessments and safeguarding assessments for children. Section H2 must only include services which are not provided under Section 2 of the CSDPA. For children and young people under 18 this includes residential short breaks and services provided to children arising from their SEN but unrelated to a disability. This should include any provision secured through a social care direct payment. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Social care provision reasonably required will include any adult social care provision to meet eligible needs for young people over 18 (set out in an adult care and support plan) under the Care Act 2014.</li> <li>• The local authority may also choose to specify in section H2 other social care provision reasonably required by the child or young person, which is not linked to their learning difficulties or disabilities. This will enable the local authority to include in the EHC plan social care provision such as that governed by child in need or child protection plans, or provision meeting eligible needs set out in an adult care plan where it is unrelated to the SEN but appropriate to include in the EHC plan.</li> </ul>
I	Placement	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The name and type of the school, maintained nursery school, post-16 institution or other institution to be attended by the child or young person and the type of that institution (or, where the name of a school or other institution is not specified in the EHC plan, the type of school or other institution to be attended by the child or young person).</li> <li>• These details must be included only in the final EHC plan, not the draft EHC plan sent to the child's parent or to the young person.</li> </ul>
J	Personal Budget (including arrangements for	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• This section should provide detailed information on any Personal Budget that will be used to secure provision in the EHC plan.</li> </ul>
